

Pati Carr

Pati recently moved into her role at Carson Group as the Learning Management System Administrator and has been charged with rolling out their new system to the enterprise in 2020.

She has well over 10 years experience designing, developing, and facilitating learning as well as managing teams. In addition, Pati has been a mentor and coach to professionals both inside and outside of the learning and development space.

Pati holds a Master's in Communication, a Master's in Organizational Performance, and is currently a PhD candidate working towards her doctorate in Human Capital Management.

Pati has previously served on the ATD Nebraska Board in various positions and she is excited to be back, serving the wonderful industry professionals in our community.
