

June Kowalewski

June first started her training career almost 10 years ago as a Training Specialist. Since then, she has been very active in Training and Development, as well as Adult Education. She has held such positions as Training Specialist, Training Instructor, Adjunct Faculty Manager, and Director of Education.

June currently serves as the Talent Development HR Business Partner at Omaha Steaks. She also works at Bellevue University as an Adjunct Instructor for the College of Arts and Sciences teaching Communications and Career Development.

She holds a Masters in Arts in Communications and a second Master's Degree of Sciences in Organizational Leadership and Development. June has been a longtime member of ATD, previously serving as the Vice President of Programming.