

Rachel Farner

Rachel Farner started her career in Talent Acquisition 4 years ago. She's currently a Recruiting Consultant for Enova Group, one of the NMC Group of Companies. In her role as a Recruiting Consultant, Rachel works with companies in the industrial sector on their talent attraction, employee engagement and talent development strategies. She earned her Psychology degree from Simpson College in Indianola, Iowa.

Rachel is passionate about finding the right people for an organization. She believes that giving employees the opportunity to grow and develop their skillset is one of the keys to retaining employees. Rachel is a new member to ATD and looks forward to her time as the Director of Programming.