

Meray Kim

Meray Kim is an APTD-certified Learning and Development professional passionate about people. Supporting individuals with training for the roles they are taking, the roles they are in, and the roles they want is what she loves to do. She is a huge believer that Talent Development programs allow people to stretch and grow to their full potential so they can pursue their passions and add more value to the team they are a part of. Currently, in her role at Mulhall's as the Engagement + Training Manager, she manages new hire onboarding, team member engagement, and company-wide training needs.
