

Rachel Hile

Rachel Hile started her career in Talent Acquisition five years ago. She's currently a Senior Talent Acquisition Specialist for the NMC Group of Companies. She earned her Psychology degree from Simpson College in Indianola, Iowa. Rachel is passionate about finding the right people for an organization. She believes that giving employees the opportunity to grow and develop their skillset is one of the keys to retaining employees. Rachel is a newer member of ATD and looks forward to her time as the Director of Career Resources.